

Our Products

At Bloomsbury Professional, our commitment to creating high quality products has never waned in 10 years. We champion some of the longest standing titles in the professional market and we respect their history – texts that we like to think of as The Classics. These are enduringly significant books which remain as relevant now as they were several decades ago; books which have stood the test of time; books which have adapted to keep pace with industry change.

We also pride ourselves on being forward thinking, a modern publisher with a deep understanding of your needs as a modern professional. In recent years we've invested our energies in finding new ways to provide our content – we've embraced the digital era with our state-of-the-art online platforms, we've broken down barriers by offering more affordable options and we've looked to fill gaps in the market. The Innovations represent the future of Bloomsbury Professional, allowing a glimpse of what the next 10 years might hold.

Keen to discover some of The Classics and The Innovations in your subject area? Look no further!

The Classics

Tax Planning for Family and Owner-Managed Companies

First published in 1995, Tax Planning for Family and Owner-Managed Companies has expertly navigated 20 years of major changes to tax law and HMRC practice with author Peter Rayney at the helm. A specialist at the very top of his game, Peter has the unique ability to capture all the pertinent issues across this broad subject area and explain them in an eminently accessible way.

Highly revered throughout the industry and honoured with the Tax Writer of the Year gong at the Taxation Awards 2014, he has helped this seminal title to become the most popular tax book in our 10-year history.

With the most recent edition stretching to more than 1000 pages, this work has come a long way from its humble beginnings as a 300-page volume. From dealing with the wide impact of the landmark House of Lords ruling in the Arctic Systems case in 2007, to a major rewrite following the introduction of CGT Entrepreneurs' relief, this book has undergone dramatic change over the years to ensure that it always keeps practitioners one step ahead.

True to tradition, the 2014/15 edition is bang up to date with the new rules for 'employee shareholder' shares awards and tax avoidance scheme follower notices.

Seeing as it's our birthday, we'll let you in on a little secret: one of our customers in a large firm told us that this book is so good they could run their whole tax practice using this text alone! A mighty endorsement for a mighty title.

Find out more >>

Norfolk and Montagu on the Taxation of Interest and Debt Finance

Another text which has continually evolved over the years is Norfolk and Montagu on the Taxation of Interest and Debt Finance. Beginning life several decades ago under the alias Taxation Treatment of Interest and Loan Relationships, the book was originally penned by Christopher Norfolk.

To stay abreast of swift change in this field, the text metamorphosed into a looseleaf and came under the expert authorship of Gerald Montagu in 2009.

While still offering the looseleaf service, we were mindful that practitioners would benefit from an automatically updated online service which would provide all of the content but none of the hassle. And so in 2012 we introduced Norfolk and Montagu in its latest incarnation, as part of our state-of-the-art online platform.

No matter what form it takes, this text remains the most authoritative, pragmatic and accessible guide to the taxation treatment of interest and debt finance for both individuals and companies. Steeped in history, it takes practitioners back to 1799, explaining how the law and accounting practice have developed and instilling a sound understanding of both current practice and the policy rationale which will drive future developments.

Under constant review to ensure that the content is accessible and up to date, this is one title which keeps getting better with age.

Find out more >>

The Innovations

Tax Toolkit

Our goal as a modern professional publisher is to support tax practitioners with their day to day tasks and to help them move their practice to the next level, allowing them to take on value-adding work for their clients.

Innovative to the very core, the online Tax Toolkit offers a complete tax solution for the forward-looking practitioner, combining clear and expert guidance with hundreds of practical examples covering all the core taxes.

For just £500 a year, the Tax Toolkit gives access to two great value products:

- The UK Tax Service is an online library of 17 core tax books. Hosted on an easy-to-use digital platform, this cost-effective and time-efficient resource enables you to search for and store important tax information, delivering the answers you need, when you need them.
- Tax Planner Interactive is unlike anything you've ever seen before in a tax product! This practical online tool guides practitioners step by step to the most effective tax planning solutions for their clients, providing everything needed to implement the advice.

We believe that this combined package can change the way tax practitioners work, giving them the information and confidence to advise clients on a range of situations, from everyday issues to complex tax advisory work.

Our authoritative content and cutting-edge technology can make the ambitions of any tax practice a reality. Take the first step by chatting to our expert team on 01444 416119 or email onlinesales@bloomsburyprofessional.com.

Find out more >>

Our range of financial reporting products

While Bloomsbury Professional has maintained a strong presence in the tax market since our founding, we were keen to make inroads into the financial reporting sector and cater for the information requirements of accounting and audit professionals.

The strategic development of our financial reporting list began three years ago and in 2012 we established a successful partnership with industry leaders PwC, publishing their flagship Manual of accounting series ever since.

With the addition of new titles from our stable of specialist authors, our financial reporting range has continued to go from strength to strength. The constant stream of new and amended standards and legislation enables accountants and auditors to keep up with developments in an area which is currently undergoing constant change.

With our appetite for innovation whet, we wanted to empower practitioners to choose how they access their content, with the option of either traditional books or an online service.

Our intention was to provide a better online platform, at a more affordable price point, without compromising on quality. The launch of the Financial Reporting for Smaller Companies online service saw us deliver on that promise, allowing accounting professionals to search expert commentary across multiple titles in seconds – and at a snip of the cost!

Add our Disclosure Checklists software into the mix and you'll see that we've quickly cemented our status as a key player in the financial reporting market.

Find out more >>

Follow our story all week and on Friday we'll reveal Three Ways to Thank You for your custom over the past 10 years.

Psst!

Everyone will receive a discount voucher and there'll be plenty of chances to win Bloomsbury Professional books of your choice!

Modern publishing. Professional products. Traditional values.

Bloomsbury Professional

Bloomsbury Professional Ltd. Registered number: 05233465. VAT Registered No. 215039103. Registered office: 50 Bedford Square, London, WC1B 3DP.

Want to unsubscribe or change your details?